

READY TO SERVE . . . The newly completed 15-million-dollar Harbor General Hospital acute unit and outpatient clinic will be dedicated in ceremonies beginning at 10 a.m. Monday with Supervisor Burton W. Chace as master of ceremonies. The modern, functional hospital unit, third largest in California, will be in complete operation by Jan. 28, officials say. Public tours of the new facility have been scheduled following the dedication tomorrow and again on Tuesday. (Herald Photo by Darrell Maddox)

RELAXING MOMENTS . . . Staff members at Harbor General Hospital take a break in the attractive hospital patio, destined to be one of the popular gathering places in the new facility to be dedicated in ceremonies beginning at 10 a.m. Monday. A central kitchen in the basement of the hospital will serve the staff dining room with its capacity of 160 persons and the employees dining room which can seat 280. (Herald Photo)

... Hospital

(Continued from Page 1) unit has a capacity of 605 beds, and is designed to handle 22,000 patients a year, 3,000 more than the current patient load.

THE NEW building will replace the World War II Army barracks-type buildings which have served for many years. The building is equipped with the latest in hospital equipment, designed for patient comfort and to aid doctors and other attendants in efficient care of patients. The new equipment includes automatically operated beds which can be raised or lowered and in which a patient's position can be changed with the push of a button.

"It will be noted that we have refrained in our design from going into ultramodern architecture in building and rooms," Thomas said. "WE KEPT within the bounds of tested and proved modern designs without frills in the interest of saving as much of the taxpayers' money as possible," he added. He outlined the objective of the new hospital design as to "provide a high standard of patient care."

No room has more than four beds nor less than two and the areas of the hospital offer a maximum of quietness through acoustic controls.

Speaking Class Set At Harbor

Oral communications, a class in effective speaking and listening, will be offered during the spring semester at Harbor College commencing Feb. 4, 1963, according to Carmen L. Marinella, chairman of the business division.

Jim McArthur of the IBM Corporation will conduct the classes on Monday evenings from 6:30 to 9:30. McArthur is a graduate of Stanford University with degrees in both industrial engineering and economics and has been affiliated with the International Business Machines Corp. in a sales representative capacity for the past three and one-half years.

A few of the many topics to be discussed include How to Hold Productive Meetings and Conferences, Reporting to Top Management, Handling Grievances and Complaints, Guides to Employment Interviewing and When You Have to Make a Speech.

Applications for admission to the spring semester are being accepted now at the Admissions Office of the college. Deadline for filing an application for the spring semester is Friday, Jan. 25.

START HERE . . . Most persons entering the new Harbor General Hospital facilities will start here—the main lobby information and reception desk. Here members of the hospital staff show part of the spacious lobby which will serve as the principal starting point for visitors to the hospital and for persons seeking information about any phase of the hospital's operation. (Herald Photo)

PUSH BUTTON BED . . . A. L. Thomas, administrator of Harbor General Hospital since 1951, shows modern bed and bedside stand and tray board which have been installed in the new acute unit of the hospital which will be dedicated tomorrow. The bed may be raised or lowered and placed in several contours merely by pushing a button. (Herald Photo)
